

BOARD ASSURANCE AND RISK MANAGEMENT POLICY

Introduction

In complex organisations such as colleges, management operates at different levels, with each level delegating tasks and authorities to others with the combined aim of delivering the agreed objectives. Delegation does not remove accountability and managers exercise this through seeking assurance that responsibilities that they have delegated are being carried out in the way intended. Most college governors are substantially removed from day to day activity and rely on assurances through management representations and information in order to carry out their role.

Assurance for governors and Accounting Officers is most likely to be about confirming that:

- Plans, policies and procedures are fit for purpose and being operated
- Agreed actions are taken to timescale and planned outcomes achieved
- Performance is in line with expectations
- Risks are being managed
- Management reports are reliable
- Planned internal or contracted activities are taking place and unacceptable activities are not taking place
- Value for money is being achieved

The Board Assurance Framework set out in this policy is an extension of the former College's previous risk management arrangements. Therefore, it builds on how the College understands and implements risk management but is intended to enable the College to answer the core question;

'Do we really know what we think we know?'

Policy Statement

The College recognises the importance of setting strategic and developmental objectives and then identifying and managing any risks that threaten the achievement of those objectives.

The College intends that its internal controls and risk management processes should supplement innovation and entrepreneurship, and not replace it. It recognises that increased business is the reward for successful risk taking and the role of internal control is to manage risk appropriately rather than to eliminate it.

Risks manifest themselves in a range of ways some can have a positive outcome while others may have a negative outcome for the College. It is vital that those responsible for the stewardship and management of the College be aware of the best methods for identifying, and subsequently managing such risks.

The College defines Risk as real or potential events, which reduce the likelihood of achieving business objectives. The term includes both the potential for gain and exposure to loss.

Assurance is required where there is a risk of something not taking place that should be, or of something taking place that should not be, with the potential for some form of loss to the organisation as a result. This could be through error, loss, cost, or reputational damage. The greater the potential consequence and the more likely it is to happen, the more important it is to have robust assurance.

Assurance also needs to be provided at the right time to allow action to be taken if required to mitigate the potential consequence. The more quickly the potential consequence can materialise the more frequent the assurance may need to be.

Aims of the Policy

- To ensure there are appropriate arrangements and clear responsibilities or risk management in the College
- To establish an open and receptive approach to solving risk
- To make conservative and prudent recognition and disclosure of the financial and non-financial implications of risks
- To gain a clear and complete understanding of the services delivered, the activities undertaken and the types of assurance currently obtained, and consideration as to whether they are effective and efficient
- To Identify areas where assurance activities are not present, or are insufficient for the needs
- To identifying areas where assurance is duplicated, or is disproportionate to the risk of the activity being undertaken (i.e. there is scope for efficiency gains)
- To identify areas where existing controls are failing and as a consequence the risks that are more likely to occur;
- To provide an evidence base to assist the College in the preparation of its annual Statement of Corporate Governance and Internal Control

Scope of the Policy

All activities undertaken on behalf of the College that may contain a level of risk that could impact on the achievement of College level objectives.

Who should be aware of this policy?

All members of the Governing Body and members of the Senior Management Team.

How will we achieve this Policy?

- By regularly assessing the extent of identified risks and taking controlling actions where necessary
- By regularly identifying new risks and taking controlling actions where necessary
- By monitoring the effectiveness of controls and actions used to manage risks
- By ensuring that our risk management arrangements are audited and scrutinised to ensure they are effective
- By matching the College's strategic objectives and risk management framework against all forms of assurance currently provided (internal and independent), analysing any 'gap' between the assurances required and those available, and take action to close the gaps. The process by which the College will carry out this analysis and determine any required action is set out responsibilities below

Our Risk Appetite

Our strategic plan sets out the opportunities and challenges facing the College and the way we intend to operate. Our operations and achievement of the strategic plan will be undertaken within the values and culture that we have set out in the plan. In the context our approach to risk will:

- Take and make chances to progress and improve
- Ensure healthy delegation: empowered, accountable teams, responsible for their performance and with the means and desire to improve it
- Operate disciplined innovation: creative actions and new ideas harnessed to our central task
- Aim for organisational stability where we can achieve it and where it's due

The role of the Internal Audit Service (IAS)

As from 1 August 2013, it is not mandatory under the JACOP for any college corporation to have to appoint an IAS. It is for each college corporation, under advisement of its audit committee, to determine for itself how best to fulfil its obligations to secure the proper, economic, efficient and effective use of resources and to safeguard the college's assets.

The College will continue to engage an IAS. But it recognises its freedom to determine how it should utilise the IAS and other bodies and internal resources to enable the Audit Committee to give an opinion on the adequacy and effectiveness of the college's audit arrangements, framework of governance, risk management and control, and processes for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness.

How will we evaluate and review the effectiveness of this policy?

The corporate governance arrangements of a college are the means by which it sets and monitors strategy, holds the executive to account, manages risks, discharges stewardship and trustee responsibilities and ensures sustainability.

The Governing Body is responsible for reviewing the effectiveness of internal control of the College including the policy and associated procedures for Risk Management. A detailed review is carried out annually by the Audit Committee and is reported to the Governing Body in order that it can take a view on the effectiveness of the arrangements.

The Audit Committee will assess and provide the Corporation with an opinion on the adequacy and effectiveness of the college's audit arrangements, framework of governance, risk management and control, and processes for securing economy, efficiency and effectiveness.

The approach by the Audit Committee to fulfil these responsibilities may include:

1. A review the previous year and examine the college's track record on risk management and internal control of significant risks.
2. Consideration of the internal and external risk profile of the coming year and consider if current internal control arrangements are likely to be effective.

In making its decision the Committee will consider the following aspects:

- a. Control environment:
 - The College's objectives and its financial and non-financial targets
 - Organisational structure and calibre of the senior management team
 - Culture, approach, and resources with respect to the management of risk
 - Delegation of authority; and public reporting
- b. On-going identification and evaluation of significant risks:
 - Timely identification and assessment of significant risks; and prioritisation of risks and the allocation of resources to address areas of high exposure
- c. Information and communication:
 - Quality and timeliness of information on significant risks; and time it takes for control breakdowns to be recognised or new risk to be identified

d. Monitoring and corrective action:

- Ability of the college to learn from its problems and its commitment and responsiveness with which corrective actions taken are implemented
